FEBRUARY

1970

Dear Friends,

It's a relief to see that the 'flu epidemic is past its peak and things are righting themselves after disruptions of the early weeks of this year. There was a lot of talk about absenteeism from work, some due to legitimate reasons, some due to laziness and shirking. When you come to think about it, a lot of excuses are given by us all when we donIt want to fulfil our responsibilities.

I believe attendance at church is a paramount responsibility of the Christian. I was reminded of this the other week, when one of the oldest members of one of our churches reached the church porch, very cold and wet, and with a sigh of relief exclaimed: 'Eo... I'm glad I made it, I didn't want to miss today's service.' When people who have a reasonable excuse put themselves out, then it makes other excuses seem very paltry. The wallpaper brush may have to be put down for that hour on a Sunday, and the dinner may have to 'do itself.' It comes down to whether we believe worship is necessary for a Christian - and regular worship at that. For me, the two must go hand in hand, week by week. Don't let it be said about us: 'He won't be here this week, because he came last week.' Christ wants reliability and a sense of sacrifice.

This also holds true- even more so - for Holy Communion. When people come into Church membership, they pledge that they will attend the Sacrament regularly. This is the one service where we experience the presence of the Risen Lord bound together in service and purpose. Christians have always seen the necessity of living out the words and actions of our Lord through this sacrament, and it is important that we take every opportunity to renew our faith in this way.

This may seem a little harsh - occasionally these things need to be said. I want it also to be known that I value more than words can say the co-operation and support of the 'hard core' who attend and support the churches week by week, rain or hail. You are an example to us all, and an inspiration to God's Church.

As the chess player said to his opponent,,.. it's your move.....

Yours faithfully

Glyn Jenkins

IN MEMORIAM

ALICE BUCKLEY We are sorry to report the death of Mrs. Buckley of 2, Hawthorne Lane, Newhey, who died on the 26th December at the age of 63. Our sympathy and good wishes go to Mr. Buckley and the family.

GRACE ANN BRAUND of 81 Royds Street, Milnrow, who died in Brooklands Nursing Home on Sunday 18th January aged 74. Our sympathy goes to Mr. Braund and the family.

REV. GEORGE BOWMAN, Vicar of Newhey, and formerly curate of Littleborough Parish Church.
A letter of sympathy was sent to Mrs. Bowman from St. Stephens congregation at the Communion service on January 4th.
George Bowman, who entered the ministry of the the Church of England late in life, will be missed in Newhey for he was a man of great enthusiasm and energy.

****

NEW CHALICE

At the Communion Service at Milnrow on January 4th Rev. G. Jenkins dedicated a new church chalice. This was kindly given by Mr. & Mrs. Wilkinson to the memory of Mrs. Sarah Moores.

****

At the A.G.M. of the WOMENS GUILD most of last year's committee were re-elected. The only change is that Mrs. Beryl Shackleton stood down as Birthday secretary and Mrs. Ella Prince replaced her. We understand that Mrs. Prince was joking when she said that every lady would receive a 'Birthday Bouquet' because she does not want to be accused of giving people their cards.

Officers:

President:	-	Mrs. S. Jenkins
Vice President:	-	Mrs. M. Howarth
Secretary:	-	Mrs. C. Hey
Treasurer:	-	Mrs. P. Royle

At the A.G.M. of the CHOIR plans were made for a Whist Drive & Afternoon Tea on Saturday February 28th at 2.30 p.m. Price 2/6.
They also discussed venues for their annual outing. Far away islands and foreign shores were mentioned but in the end it was decided to visit one of the less secluded parts of the Fylde Coast.

FAMILY COMMUNION - 18th January

Q. Did you like at Church last Sunday?
A. Yes.
Q. Did we do anything different?
A. Yes, there was a party but there weren't any balloons.
Q. What did we do at the party?
A. Well, Mr. Jenkins had some muffins and he braked them all up into little pieces of bread and he gived them all out on a plate and Auntie Gwen had some but I didn't have some.
And Mr. Jenkins said "Eat it up and remember me" then he ate it up and forgot me.
And he had a lot of drinks and he gived them all out too and he said "Drink it all up and remember me."
Then after that we went in Sunday School and we didn't have a party.

--------so now you know.

LADIES!!!!!

If you start your Spring cleaning early, please remember to sort out your unwanted goods by Friday the 13th March, when we shall be having :-

GOOD AS NEW SALE - Afternoon (details of JUMBLE SALE - Evening times next month)

WHO CARES?

Here are five important points to note:-

1. Milnrow is growing and so is St. Stephen's.
2. The church must extend beyond its walls.
3. The church that cares must organise staff to be accessable to those who need its care.
4. All too often the church and the minister find out too late.
5. There are newcomers in the district who may need us and we may need them.

At a recent meeting the deacons decided to stress more than ever that their ministry is one of CARING. Their job is not just to act as church dignitaries but to answer problems, respond to needs, and to listen to the grudges and grievances of church members.

To that end it is proposed to divide Milnrow and Newhey into areas. One deacon (perhaps sometimes two) will be assigned to each area. Everyone connected with the church will live in one or other of these areas and everyone will have a deacon who is prepared to help, lead and listen.

The Annual Church is an important one, at which more details of this scheme will be available. The scheme of CARE will be officially launched later this year.

(The columns of this magazine are open to anyone who wishes to comment on the scheme.)

"DOING YOUR THING"

Though nearly empty churches may be a sign of the times, the people inside the churches are a pretty good indicator too.

There was a time when ordinary folk knew their place and quietly did as they were told. So when they went to church they prayed when the parson prayed, sang when the choir sang and sat silently and still throughout the sermon.

Nowadays, "involvement" is accepted; everyone "does his thing" and the result is a world in which people rush around on urgent tasks. Again it is just the same in church as the rotas opposite indicate: Some arrange flowers, some give out hymn books, some take collections, some read lessons, some help at communion, some mind the babies and some make coffee. Like the world outside "its all go."

If you prefer to worship quietly in the older tradition, you are welcome to do so. If you want to do something active there is plenty to be done and your name can be put on a rota.

But if you volunteer to help please be prompt and reliable.

A WOMAN'S WORK

Did you know that the ladies who look after the creche also make the coffee? It pro ably takes skill sometimes to prevent your perishers being perculated.

Please show your gratitude by helping with the washing up.

"IT'S WONDERFUL & IT'S TRUE"

The above was the title of the film seen by 21 people present at the open meeting of the Ladies Guild on January 6th. The film was followed by a business meeting and refreshments.

OBSCURE PRESS BARON TO VISIT LITTLEBOROUGH

The new editor has received a very warm greeting from Littleborough on his first month's effort with the magazine. The point is made that nobody knows him at Littleborough and he has been asked to remedy that by making a personal appearance some Sunday morning to read the lesson "so we can all take a look at you."

The editor wishes to thank Littleborough for the greetings and promises that - if he can get a visa - he will be delighted to come over some Sunday. Mind you, although he will be happy to read the lesson, he is not coming to be gawped at - he would much rather look at you and like any journalist, go home with a lot of half-truths about you in "The Messenger."

In the meantime those who want to know what Councillor Royle is like might be interested in the words of one Milnrow lady elector "You know, he looks like an absent minded professor, but cuddly with it."

(Any more of this rubbish and we are going on strike!!!----------Messenger duplicating staff.)

COUNTING CHICKENS

We think the Centenary Fund raised £280. Our thanks to Mr. Ian Merrick the treasurer of the fund and to the Busy Bees for their £64 donation.

It seems that plans and ideas to spend the £500 talked about where rather premature.

BUSY BEES

The Annual General Swarm of the Busy Bees will happen on Wednesday 4th February.

It is important that all are present to choose a new Queen etc.

THINK ABOUT IT

A poor farmer owed a sum of money to a wicked Baron. "Give me the hand of your daughter," said the Baron, "And I will release you from your debt.
"Never!" replied both the farmer and the daughter.
"I will be reasonable," said the Baron with the sincerity of a serpent. "On the path beneath our feet are both black and white pebbles. I will place one of each into this bag and your daughter shall draw one out. If she draws black she marries me and I will cancel your debt. If she draws white she need not marry me and your debt is still cancelled. Do you agree?"

Since they were in a bit of a spot anyway the farmer and his daughter agreed to try their luck, but the crafty Baron but two black pebbles into the bag when he thought nobody was looking.
"Take your pick," he said, preening his villains whiskers.

Fortunately for the goodies, the daughter saw the two black pebbles drop into the bag and she knew what to do.

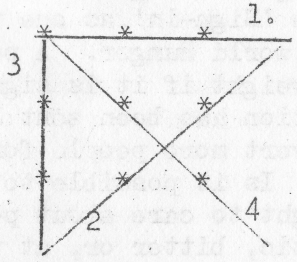
In the end the Baron got neither the maid nor the money for the daughter was as bright as she was bonny.

THE QUESTION IS - What did she do?

Answer next month.
(Pedantic thinkers may, if they prefer, correct the punctuation.)

Last month's "Think about it"

Answer:



"SIGN-IN"

A letter to the editor from Neil Bruckshaw who writes:

> I find your article entitled "Sign-In" in the last issue of the 'Messenger' as very offensive.
>
> I signed the December Declaration while still at college before the end of the autumn term. Would it have been correct for me to have signed again at St. Stephens? Surely, I would have been defeating the object of the petition since anyone could have signed more than once and made a mockery of the whole thing. Yet, where do I come in your petty table? It appears that just because I did not sign at St. Stephens, I do not count. Members at St.Stephens are not the only people aware of the aid required for overseas and who are taking some action. We, at Coventry College of Education, organised our own "Sign-In", but the decision to sign was left to the individual's conscience with NO repercussions later.
>
> I feel this would have been a better practice to follow at St. Stephens and Littleborough, instead of such an objectionable article that appeared in your January issue of the 'Messenger.'

The Editor's reply:

While I accept many of Neil's points there is a fundamental difference between our attitudes.

Neil sees the 'Sign-in' as a matter of conscience: People sign because they feel they ought to do and if they do not sign nothing should be said.

I see the 'Sign-in' as one tiny weapon in the fight against world hunger. A petition obviously carries most weight if it is signed voluntarily but once the petition has been sent I see no harm in trying to convert more people for next time. Was my method wrong? Is it possible to tell people that they jolly well ought to care about poverty without being either sarcastic, bitter or, at the other extreme, mealy-mouthed?

What do you think?

C.C.W.M.

In 1962 Rochdale council of Congregational Churches had Miss Jenny Bryson as the Deputation for their February Meetings. She left a great impression on all the people who met her. She served as a Missionary in Africa from 1922 and was well loved and respected. She is now retired and living in Annan, Scotland, and this is part of the greeting that she sent to members of our Church at Christmas.

"May 1970 see for all the world
Peace where there is war
Justice where injustice rules
And Hope where there is now Despair.

Sorry to report that I've had a slight stroke but am much better. The arthritis is very bad - walking is difficult. However it might be worse."

Such is the wonderful courage of Miss Bryson who has devoted her whole life to God's work both here and in Africa.

Alright so we can't all be Missionaries but perhaps we can help those who are by our continued prayers and by giving something if we can afford.

For those in our Churches who already have a Missionary Box, our grateful thanks for your support and pray that you will continue giving. For those who haven't a Missionary Box, would you like one?
